During the next few hours, drink FIVE additional 8 ounces of any clear liquid of your choice (no red or purple) to ensure adequate hydration and successful prep.
- Part Two: begin at _____AM the morning of your exam.
(Repeat process) Fill to the line on the included disposable container with cool water. Mix contents of the remaining Suprep packet and stir until dissolved. Drink the entire mixture. During the next few hours, drink THREE additional 8 ounces of any clear liquid of your choice (no red or purple) to ensure adequate hydration and successful prep.

IMPORTANT: If you experience nausea while taking the prep, pause from drinking more until this nauseated feeling eases off, otherwise you may experience vomiting. If you cannot complete the entire preparation, it is possible that your bowel may not be adequately cleansed. This might cause the exam to be more difficult, longer duration and possibly inadequate, which might require repeating the process on another occasion. If you have not experienced any response to the prep, please call the office number and the doctor on call will discuss alternate options. The final “stool” output should appear as a thin, watery yellow or clear fluid, usually by the morning of the exam.

YOU MAY NOT HAVE ANYTHING BY MOUTH FOR AT LEAST FOUR HOURS BEFORE YOUR EXAMINATION. If you regularly take heart or blood pressure medicines, you SHOULD take these medications in the morning of your examination; you may take them with a small amount of water no less than 2 hours before your scheduled time.
